Paver Who Had Loaded Revolver Fined $28 and Costs-Tried to Get Money in Norwich.

Money in Norwich.

Guiseppe Perruz, the Italian paver, who is employed by Contractor Langefeld on the Main street paying job, who was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon, was in police court Friday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $25 and costs, amounting to $31.60. He tried to get the money all day, and finally sent to a relative in Norwich for it.

Perruz has had more or less difficulty with the other men on the job on the job. Perruz stated in court that he not intend to use the weapon but had simply bought it to take home with him and place it with a collection of other revolvers that he had. A new paver was put in Perrur's place Friday and the work is being rushed along.

Contractor Martin's Statement.

There promises to be something doing before the trouble on the Joseph Labby job on Jackson street is settled. Contractor Joseph A. Martin takes exceptions at some of the stories that have been circulated. He says that in the first place the men never gave him any notice of a strike and that he went to work according to instructions and advice given him by the walking delegate M J Kelley There promises to be something doyoke, five or seven gored, with pleated by the walking delegate, M. Mr. Martin stated that Thursday morning three men came to the place where the job is being done, who styled themselves a committee, and who used what he considered very insulting language, and told him to stop working non-union men or they would put him in a corner. Without paying any attention to the language that they had used Mr. Martin told them to bring him union men and that he would put them to work and that he would lay off the non-union men. otherwise he could not stop his work on their account. He said that the committee replied that they had noth-ing to do with that, but if be did not desist from working non-unoin men and do as they requested that they would put him in a box.

Mr. Martin says that it was not true that he only had a single man on the job Thursday, he had seven, and he had nine at work there Friday. He is willing to arbitrate with the union or Agent Kelley and ascertain who is in the right. He can produce a witness to prove that every contractor in town bad a non-union man at work all summer for him, and that the union made

Rev. Anna Howard Shaw of New York was the speaker Thursday evening. Dr. Shaw is an ordained minister of the Methodist Protestant church, also president of the National Women's Suffrage association. She said in part that for 25 years the W. C. T. U. bad been educating the men who today were voting for no-license. The W. C. T. U. demands the ballot that the women of the home may be protected. Dr. Shaw said she believed in universal suffrage. She would not disfranchise the great number of teachers, philanthropists, who are women, by the man who buys votes and the man who sells them.

Man's inventive genius had given women more time; home duties were not what they were. She felt sorry for the woman who had to play bridge. Bridge, she had heard, was good to strengthen the memory.
